The Christian church festival known as Easter corresponds with the more Jewish festival called the Passover, and both are moveable and dependent on the phase of the moon. Easter is held on the Sunday immediately succeeding the first full moon in early spring, the commencement of spring being reckoned the 21st day of March. When the full moon comes on Sunday, Easter is the Sunday following. Thus the date may be as early as the 22nd of March or as late as 25th of April. 1818 was the last time it came on the 22nd of March and it will not be again in the 20th century. Last year there was a full moon on Saturday the 21st of March, so according to the rule Sunday was Easter. In 1886 Easter was on the 25th of April. Full moon was on the 20th of March and on the 18th of April, but that being Sunday the festival was on Sunday the 25th.

Young Plants

Every farmer knows that some plants grow better than others. Soil may be the same and seed may seem the same but some plants are weak and others strong.
And that's the way with children. They are like young plants. Same food, same home, same care but some grow big and strong while others stay small and weak.

Scott's Emulsion offers an easy way out of the difficulty. Child weakness often means starvation, not because of lack of food, but because the food does not feed.

Scott's Emulsion really feeds and gives the child growing strength.

Whatever the cause of weakness and failure to grow—Scott's Emulsion seems to find it and set the matter right.

Dashed to Earth Again.

"It's real interesting to read about these folks that lived in mythological times," said Mr. Cobb as he put a slip of paper in his library book and shut it carefully. "Seems as if I'd clock came quicker than ever I knew it to before."

Mrs. Cobb was putting a large patch on one elbow of her waist, and she held it close to the lamp in what seemed to her husband an ostentatious way. He turned aside in his chair to avoid the view.

"There was that feller Atlas," he said, musing. "He was strong beyond anything that we have nowadays. Why, he supported the heavens on his head and hands; held 'em up in place till they got kind of set, I judge. What muscle such a man as that must have had!" And Mr. Cobb doubled his right fist and brought it up to his shoulder while the fingers of his left hand felt his arm with apparent satisfaction.

"What an appetite he must have had!" said Mrs. Cobb tartly. "And while he was supporting the heavens—work the Lord could have done without any of his help—I'll risk but what his wife was supporting him! And tomorrow I guess your cold 'll be well enough so you can go over to the squire's and begin on that wood they want chopped and piled."

Now is the time to clean house clean your system first, drive out the microbes of winter with Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. It will keep you well all summer. 35 cents. Tea or tablets. F. C. Warne.

I became nervous, despondent, gloomy, had no ambition, easily tired, evil forebodings, poor circulation, pimples on face, back weak, restless at night, tired and weak mornings, burning sensation. To make matters worse, I became reckless and contracted other diseases. I tried many doctors and medical firms—all failed till Dr. Kennedy & Kergan took my case. The Petoskey Record of March 30th has a beautiful Easter cover—sweet symbol of the resurrection. But within its pages the turreted column rules call attention to the fact that the Reaper is still busy. This time it takes away J. C. Bontecou, who for twentyone years has been editor and publisher, of that excellent weekly publication.
"A Romance of Coon Hollow" has held the road with unvarying success over nine years, since its original bringing out at the Fourteenth Street Theatre, New York in August 1894. What better can be said of a play than this? It has never been cheapened, never been allowed to fall below the high standard of its original production, either in the grade of the company, the introduced singers and dancers, or the beautiful scenery, which is all carried by the company, no house scenery whatever being used. Everything connected with Coon Hollow is big except the prices, which are popular, as well as the best plantation dancers on the road, and entire new scenery by Ackerman of New York will be seen. The big show is announced at Loveday Opera House for next Tuesday night.
